

NEWSLETTER SUMMER-FALL 2022

Hello, fellow Litwoodians,

Halloween is coming:

As the summer of '22 winds down,
in comes the fall,
If you are also a GOT nut like me(game of thrones)
Halloween is coming!
sandwiched by labor and election days

No time to be bored:

The board is back
dealing a never ending stack
Ask, Yvonne, the Headmistress, trying hard not to grade us an F on our assignments MaryEllen, the number cruncher dealing daily with Oliver(Twist) like people asking
"please, can I have some more (money?)."
replies she, the one with the $ sign on the door
"Show me the money!"
Marty is the one with connections, both social and electronic
Is busy as a beaver and a quiet facilitator
Dan has a tight hold on access through the gates with guards, barriers and lights flashing Paula, the welcome ambassador, greeting the newcomers both seen and unseen and as for Me and Paul, we are just two new kids on the block running around in loose diapers.
catching violators and say "gotcha"

Farewell:

It is hard to top other people's good work,
One has no choice except follow like dorks
Such were the writings of Constance, our previous secretary, can only try to be as good, but can't promise that I can deliver the goods,
Last I heard, she was heading to a distant land.
But she doesn't know our long reach.(by message and email).
We wish her the best wherever she is going to be,
She is always welcome, if she changes her mind.
We accept her with open arms (provided she pays her dues! of course).

Welcome; We have a new board member, T Reddy. We are looking forward to his joining the board's deliberations in August meeting

What's Up with Bob?

Bob Schneider has finally retired(or so we thought) after thirteen plus years being on the board.
Little did we know that he is still at work
this time, I was told, is practicing pulling strings from behind,
There is a word for it, I can't recall.

We can't thank you enough Bob,
for your leadership, guidance, knowledge and dedication Hope you have more time for tennis, uninterrupted.

So much for the banter, here is the meat.:

Drain more....The drain work in front of the Mailbox kiosk on Royal oak was done in just two days,I stomped on it but it held.

Flood no more:No more flooding on the Royal Oak at the jn of LITW dr during the recent heavy downpour, the big dig is doing its job(man, was it expensive! but it's worth it).

d-Fence:A battalion of volunteers including BobScheneider,Paul Crabtree,Ed Miller, Dennis Klatil,Marty Martino, Wayne Gardener, John Evans,Quincy Caskey,Dante Oliver, myself and Yvonne Caskey have erected and completed the fence around the storage area to make parking area private and invisible. A few lady members were worried about aesthetics and their cheerleading.is appreciated. Thanks to all those volunteered ConGraduations:The following youngsters graduated highschool this summer and congratulations are in order to the grads and "grad" parents.. They are: Skye Macklin,Alexis Ledbetter,Samantha (Luca) Evans,Izabella Vinczan and Enzo Martino

Sign-up, pleaseSignatures for the Property storage have slowed down to a trickle and those who have not signed yet, please do so, to help us be on the right side of rules and regs.

Private entrance:at last! Myself,amongst other members of the community appreciate the tag activated gate for the residents, which means that we no longer have to wait behind a slow mo or the no permit guy waiting to enter through the main gate.Thanks to all those members who worked on the project and made it possible.

Look out for your neighbors(or what they are upto) Next item everyone is curious about, the on and off courting of neighborhood land behind the Walgreens, the Huntley holding affair is dead in the waters, so to speak.The time given for the project to the previous owners, as I understand it,has run out and the land is put back, up for sale. The new owner, whoever it is going to be, has to start afresh from scratch, including obtaining waivers from neighbors like us and you and I can raise any and all objections again, if and when it comes to that stage, when it presents to the planning board of the county.

If any one wants to see the details, ask me and I can send you the complete letter.Any new developments, we will keep you posted. As for you, you see something, say something too.

Warning, warning (oh, brother, does it ever stop?) Answer is NO. The board would like to remind all the members that the existing warning against speeding,responsibilities of dog owners in public spaces, care of traffic and children around the bus stop both in the morning and afternoon are still in force.

Volunteer: You don't have to be a board member to participate in community activities. If you have a particular area of interest, please get involved, call or write to the board and you will be directed to the appropriate committee already in existence. One such project already underway is the fountain committee is looking for new talent to develop, design, organize and fund the project.The committee has raised $9063 so far and more is needed

Vote forLast but not the least is Politics. Elections, candidates and canvassing come once every two years whether it is county, state or national contests and another round is coming soon. I would not want to paraphrase the attached info and I want you all to read it for yourselves. While on the same topic,recently many received new election ID cards with re-assigned polling stations. Please make note of the new polling place. Those who have not received an updated card , please contact Shirley Anderson, HC Super for elections, says Mary Ellen our Treasurer.

Thanks for your attention and patience..

Waiting for an earful from you,

Krishna Ganti, Secretary
secretary@litwoods.com

Attachments: Letter from Marty, Our VeeP & Yvonne,our Prez.